DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

As an example of the claims being narrative and indefinite claim 2 recites a torsional rigidity, which is "higher" than another torsional rigidity. However rigidities are not compared by height.

What does the applicant mean by upstream side of the fluid? Is this part of the apparatus?

The alternative language of the claims is not in conformity with proper standards. Alternative language is permitted if they present no uncertainty or ambiguity with respect to the question of scope or clarity of the claims. However the applicant uses alternative phrases to claim structures, which do not have at least one property in common (i.e. thickness of wing portion & thickness of the supporting structure).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Michelson (6,082,671). Michelson discloses every aspect and limitation of the present invention (see Figures 2D, 7 and 8)

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kim et al (6,769,949). Kim discloses every aspect and limitation of the applicant's claims in figure 1 and Col. 11 line 30 - Col. 12, line 30)

Art Unit: 3644

8. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hamamoto et al (2002/0117583). Hamaoto discloses every aspect and limitation of the applicants invention (see Figures 13-15, 23, and 28)
